* Soviets May Try To Stir Berlin Riots

(By The Associated Press) French diplomatic sources said today the Kremlin has ordered German Communists to stir enough trouble in Berlin to give the Red Army an excuse to occupy all the city. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, said only last week that nothing short of war would squeeze the United States out. Britain echoed the

The western powers, including France, drafted stiff protests for delivery today to the Kremlin, demanding an end to the blockade.

The French said the Russian masters of the German Communists ordered demonstrations that would cause police to intervene. The scenario calls for street] fighting and the move by Russian troops into all four city zones. Bits of the plot, as printed in the Paris newspaper Figaro and confirmed by diplomatic sources, call for disruption of electricity and other services and attacks by police on Communists crying for a unified Germany and a single money. Figaro said the Russians would order the western allies into a small area where "their safety can be guaranteed."

Preliminary Work For Steam Boiler Now Under Way

Construction of steel tubing and steel supports for the new steam boiler in the city plant has begun, t was announced today by City Manager A. V. Aronson.

The John Hennes Trucking company of Milwaukee is in charge of operations. The work is expected to be completed in two weeks after which the brick enclosure for the boiler will be made. The latter job will require about three weeks. The additional boiler is being installed to meet an increased need for steam and to serve as a standby auxiliary in case of trouble with the other units.

STATE TO HOLD HOLSTEIN SALE

Will Auction 50 Head Of Stock Here July 19

Michigan state institution will hold their second Upper Peninsula sale at U. P. State fairgrounds in Escanaba on Monday, July 19, at 1 p. m., it was announced to-

The state institutions have been holding annual sales of surplus registered Holsteins for the past six years and this is the second to be held in the Upper Peninsula. A total of fifty head of heifers and bulls will be sold. Seven hetfers and one bull are being consigned by the Upper Michigan Branch Prison and House of Correction at Marquette.

Michigan institutions have been breeding registered Holsteins for over sixty years and have developed some of the outstanding individuals and cow families of the breed. It is the policy of these institutions to hold public sales from time to time of surplus females that are not necessary for herd replacements.

In recent years two World's records have been made right here in the Upper Peninsula in the Marquette herd; one by Marquette Pride DeKol, 1984038, who as a senior 4-year-old produced 1,152 pounds of butterfat, and the other by her daughter, Marquette Inka DeKol, 2127687, with 915.8 pounds as a senior two-year-old. Tree Planting At U. P. State Fair

THE UPPER PENINSULA STATE FAIR board is making one more worthwhile contribution to the area it serves by the decision of the board to establish tree-planting demonstrations at the fairgrounds as a part of the state fair program.

Plans for the tree-pranting demonstrations are still in the formulative stage but they have already excited interest from farmers, industries and others who recognize the importance of the tree crop to the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, Mechanical planters will be used in the demonstrations during two days of the U. P. State Fair August 17-22 because it is recognized that hand planting has become too expensive to reforest the tremendous denuded areas in the peninsula.

If from these demonstrations further encouragement can be given to farmers and others to participate in the reforestation program, the Upper Peninsula State Fair will have made another very substantial contribution to the development of the entire Upper Peninsula in a very practical

The trash that has been printed in these comic books up to now has brought down the wrath of juvenile agencies, law enforcement officers and virtually everyone interested in combatting the juvenile delinquency problem in this country. The sexy, crime laden plots that have characterized comic books have had an extremely adverse effect upon the moral standards of American youth.

The comic book publishers less deserve a pat on the back for deciding to clean up their mess than they deserve censor for causing the mess in the first place.

The extreme popularity of comic books among the small fry make them an ideal vehicle for the creating of higher morals among youth but the material that has gone into these publications in the past has resulted in the opposite effect.

Comic magazine publishers who refuse to abide by the code may eventually find themselves out of business. Certainly the American people are not going to sit idly by indefinitely and let this trash warp the minds and moral standards of their youngsters. On the basis of land use studies, the Philadelphia city planning commission has just authorized that city's redevelopment authority to "renovate" and "revitalize" 10 Philadelphia areas.

So important, in fact, has rezoning become to American cities that Columbia university this year has established an institute for urban land use and housing studies. Experts in land use economics, "just plain" economics, architecture, sociology, law, business and other fields make up the institute's advisory board-which should give us some idea of all the angles to be considered in setting up desirable zoning regulations. Perhaps a year isn't too long to wait after all for an acceptable new zoning ordinance.

Washington. (NEA)-Compounded confusion of the last two weeks' rush in Congress, followed immediately by the Republican convention in Philadelphia, bring out the fact that what this country may need most is a new timetable.

The one which the U.S. has been running on has been revised only once in restandpoint, a charge that is borne out by Day was changed from March 4 to January cent years. That was when Inauguration 20, for Roosevelt's second term. The idea of that change was to cut down the time lapse between election and inauguration of a new administration from four months to two. The railroad had made it possible for a newly elected official to get to Washington in less than four months, but it took the government 150 years to wake up and ad-

Before the wars, Congress had so little to do that it could easily wind up its business in time to adjourn and go home before the conventions. Forty years ago, Congress adjourned May 30. Twenty years ago. Congress adjourned May 29.

OVERTIME ON OVERTIME

This year Congress wound up on June 20 only by working overtime on overtime. The amount of work it did was really remarkable. Even so, it had to hurry through a lot of business without careful consideration and it left a lot of matters undone.

The Legislative Reorganization Act of two years ago set July 30 as adjournment agencies, there will be comparatively few date. If Congress had had another month to work in, it could have done a better job. one such license has been issued in Esca- But nominating conventions have traditionally been held in late June and early Unless youngsters show improvement in July, so that's when they had to be held

> This schedule may have been all right before the days of the telegraph, radio, the airplane and television. When the country was strictly on a mud-road schedule, it was necessary to have four months between nominating convention and election. That gave the candidates time to tour the country by horse and buggy if necessary to let the voters hear their golden voices and see how handsome they were.

> With today's faster media of travel and communication, the voters don't need that much time to make up their minds. And no particular point is served by keeping the country stirred up for 10 months of every year, just to play politics.

> Conventions in cooler September, with elections in November or later, would do the trick just as well. The country doesn't close down in early winter as it did before the automobile

MOST HOPEFUL PLANK

Perhaps the most hopeful plank in the initely what the board of education plans Republican platform adopted at Philadelphia is the one calling for revision of procedure for election of president and vice president to reflect more exactly the popuchusetts, who was chairman of the Resoations Committee that drafted the Phila delphia platform.

On top of this, the whole primary election system and the random methods of selectng delegates to national nominating conventions could stand a going over. Less than half of the 1094 delegates at the Philadelpphia GOP convention were elected by the people. The other half being appointed by the bosses, it was only natural that they acted accordingly. The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.-Memories of an ex-Yugoslav resident: Stalin might have taken a leaf from an American relief workers' notebook before he embroidered the red star on the Yugoslav patchwork quilt. . . As individuals, Yugoslavs are among the swellest people in the world, but also the most difficult. Taken ensemble they are impossible. . . Basically they are no more Communist than Colonel McCormick or Tom Girdler and never will be-especially the Serbs, Bosnians, Herzegovinians and Montenegrins. . . Some of them like Tito because they love to fight and Tito is a swashbuckler who speaks their language. . . For a thousand years the Yugoslavs-especially the Serbs-have fought off wave after wave of Turkish invaders. . . The plains of Kossovo and Macedonia in southern Serbia are dotted with crimson poppiesreminders, so say the Serbs, of the blood spilled fighting the Turks. . . Having finally liberated themselves from one conqueror, the Serbs aren't anxious for another conquest by Communism-as this writer has so frequently pointed out.

Will Tito die in bed?-About a year ago this crystal-gazer predicted Tito would be assassinated before the year was up. The prediction was wrong. But it was based upon the certain knowledge that the triggernappy dictator of Yugoslavia would have to change his tactics or die with his boots on. . . Few kings of Yugoslavia in the past have died in bed. When they get unpopular they get bumped off. . . Tito was getting unpopular with three sets of his own people: 1. The Serbs, because he is a Croat; 2. With many Croats because they are Roman Catholic and don't appreciate Communism; 3. With peasants in all parts of the country.

Moscow orders the impossible-Tito

Band Concert, Fireworks Climax 4th

Eight thousand persons from Escanaba and vicinity lounged in corporal. Ludington Park last night for a gala evening of band music, fireworks and a street dance.

Earlier, hundreds of Escanabans attended roleo events in Gladstone and the featured baseball game in Escanaba between the Escanaba Bears and the Escanaba Cubs. The Cubs beat the Bears 5-1.

Charles P. Johnson led the Municipal band in a concert of the following numbers:

"Colonel Miners' March," "Buddies," "Colonel Bogey March," "Ballerina," Talisman overture, "Storm King," "Old Timers" were dedicated to Frank Karas, former band member and director who died yesterday.

Notorious Kidnaper Of Charles Urschel Dies At Alcatraz

San Francisco, July 6 (AP)-Alcatraz marked off a long-time resident today—life termer Albert L. Bates, notorious outlaw-kid-naper of Charles Urschel, wealthy Oklahoma oilman, in 1933.

Bates died Sunday of a heart ailment, Warden E. B. Swope announced last night.

The onetime member of the notorious George (Machine Gun)
Kelly gang was 57.
The Urschel case, in which the millionire oil prospector was released after payment of $200,000 ransom, "ended kidnaping in the southwest before it got started," Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaught said at Oklahoma City.

Vaught was the judge who sentenced Bates.

The case was the first important test of the "Lindberg Law" providing life imprisonment for kidnapers.

Urschel was abducted from his Oklahoma City home July 22, 1933 and held blindfolded and shackled nine days near Paradise, Tex. His exact timing of an airliner that passed overhead daily enabled the Federal Bureau of Investigation to discover the hideout and to arrest and convict nearly everyone of the 20 in the kidnap gang.

MONKEYS ARE NOT 'KWAZIEST'

Pet Dealer Says They Like Nice Life

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York-We have been down town to see Trefflich's new baby, and, as always, went away with the feeling that monkeys are a lot smarter than we are. It is unnecessary to add here that Trefflich-born Heinrich, in Hamburg, Germany-is in the monkey business.

You may remember reading about Henry's monkeys. He mislaid 150 of them a couple of years back, here in New York, and a lot of solid business executives. in the Wall St. sector, suddenly quit drinking. Fat tycoons, sliding secretaries off their laps, in order to convene the merger meeting of dessicated copper and benighted steel, suddenly observed Rhesus monkeys walking up and down the boardroom tables. They did not know, at the moment that a covey of Henry's monks had broken jail. They began to mumble prayers, and to regret their records in the Widow &

Cops Didn't Like It

Henry finally caught most of his monkeys, after a week or so of nerve - shattering experience around town, but the cops have not loved him since. And at least one resident of Connecticut is still on the wagon as a result of waking up in a parked car with one of Henry's vagrant apes.

I feed monkeys, water monkeys, treat them when they're sick, talk to them, pet them, and worry about them. While I am losing more money than I make in the animal business, the monkeys sit back in a big cool cage, eat bananas, and think what a jerk Trefflich is. Sometimes I wish I am a monkey."

Trefflich is a perpetually harassed man. Either the chimps are coming down with neurosis and or pneumonia, or the rare tropical birds are flying out the windows, or the monkeys are getting loose, or the swans are suffering from hot-foot, or the snakes are dying, or Phil Carroll, his partner in Africa, is sending back batches of expensive quinea hens that nobody will buy. So Henry is eating them. He refers to his hens as "twenty-dollar dinners".

But Henry, who has spent most of his life with animals, loves even the trouble. He found a 16foot python in a box where he pected a 12-footer, and it was as if an ordinary man had stubbed his toe on a 20-karat diamond. He opens a cage, a young lady champ jumps out. And murmurs love talk into his ear. 'Hugh-hugh-hugh-screeeek,"

"Huh-hugh-huh-yowl," says Henry, kissing her tenderly.
"Do not tell my wife," says Henry. "She does not know we are in love."

"How did you accommodate all these people?" she was asked. "Oh, we managed somehow,"

she replied. These people, all Negroes, are members of a religious cult from Chicago. Their visit to their property in Thompson township combined a holiday outing with special religious observances peculiar to their sect.

Their visit to Manistique was for the purpose of "doing a little shopping and looking around." Their quest in local stores for kosher foods revealed that they follow the Mosaic law in their diet, but their observance of the sabbath is not necessarily restricted to the seventh day of the week, but to "holiness periods" the nature of which was not made clear. MEL HAS BIG DAY:

REDSKINS WIN, 6-2 Gladstone, July 6-Mel Rothschild, veteran Gladstone hurler, i a big day for himself here Sunday afternoon, giving up only two hits, getting one Ait in three times at bat and scoring three of Gladstone's six runs as the Redskins topped Gwinn, 6-2. The Rainbow chase is getting tighter than the proverbial drum. Behind Trenary, Munising and Escanaba, four teams are tied for fourth with four victories and four defeats each. They are Gladstone, Manistique, Marquette and Negaunee.

MUNISING GOES INTO FIRST-PLACE TIE

Munising, July 6 - Munising became a distinct threat for the Rainbow league championship by walloping Chatham, 17-8, here Sunday afternoon.

The home nine scored at least once in every inning on 16 hits and 12 Chatham errors to salt away its one-sided triumph.

Chatham poled 13 hits and scored two in the eighth and three in the ninth but couldn't catch the busy Munising nine. Every player except two in the Munising linup got at least two hits. Brudd set the pace with
